Air Quality Forecast for the UK

Issued by the Met Office

Today: Air pollution levels are expected to remain largely Low on Monday. Warm and sunny conditions will persist which may give areas of Moderate air pollution in some northern and western parts of the UK.

Tomorrow: Air pollution levels are expected to be more widely Moderate across Wales and central parts of England on Tuesday, with the sunny and rather warm conditions. Generally Low levels of air pollution elsewhere, with areas of Moderate for northern Scotland, especially the northern Isles.

Outlook: Air pollution levels are expected to remain generally Low overall, with some Moderate levels of air pollution likely to persist in some areas on Wednesday due to warm and sunny conditions. A thundery breakdown will bring air pollution levels generally back down to Low levels on Thursday and Friday.
